Terms Governing Reproductions or Publication of Images from the Friends of Raynham Hall Museum Collections

The collections of the Friends of Raynham Hall Museum (RHM) are the sole and exclusive copyright of the Museum and may not be duplicated, replicated, copied, scanned, printed, published or otherwise reproduced without the specific prior written permission of the Museum. For these purposes, please use this document "Application for Permission to Reproduce Images". Permission to reproduce or otherwise use any image from the collection of the RHM is contingent upon the acceptance of the following conditions and is automatically abrogated if any part is infringed.

1. Reproduction is permitted only from materials originally supplied by the RHM. Permission to reproduce an image from the collection of RHM may not be reused, transferred, assigned or sold without the permission of the Museum.
2. All permissions require full documentation. Permission may be granted only upon receipt in advance of the full particulars concerning the authorship, ownership of copyright, format, medium, publisher, and anticipated date of publication, broadcast or transmission.
3. Rights to reproduce RHM images are non-exclusive and granted for one time use. Any further revisions, editions and reprints require a new application to be submitted.
4. Each image must be reproduced in its entirety and without alteration or cropping unless otherwise approved in writing by RHM. Any such approved image must be labeled as "detail".
5. The RHM assesses fees for the right to reproduce images from the collection in publication, productions, and products.
6. Each individual image from the RHM shall be duly and properly acknowledged and credited. Failure to individually credit any image results in an additional usage fee. Failure to comply is a violation of copyright.
7. The RHM reserves the right to withhold permission for any use judged to be disharmonious with the mission and objectives of the Museum.
8. Violation of copyright results from omission of any of these conditions and requirements.
